

“Non dovrebbe essere impossibile usare le forbici quando è proprio
così che si vuole”

"Network measurements from the edges"

Published by Simone Basso on Thu, 12/03/2015 - 22:28 Edit

As you probably have noticed, I changed the tagline of the website. From "the network neutrality bot" to "network measurements from the edges". Oh, and I also aggressively edited the content of the website. To the point that most content now sleeps with the fishes.

Such radical changes reflect profound transformations that have been happening in the last 1.5 years.

Basically, at a certain point the focus moved away from the Neubot software tool alone, and started to be measuring the internet from the edges with whatever mean, provided that it was adequate for the task.

This happened, I guess, during the MorFEO project (i.e. in 2014).

It's ironic that in the same post we have a project called MorFEO and content sleeping with the fishes, don't you think? (Source: God Father The Game \(Wikia\)).

MeasurementKit: libreria per fare
misure su mobile sviluppata da me,
Arturo Filastò, Davide Allavena,
Antonio Langiu, Lorenzo Primiterra

Verrà utilizzata da Portolan, da OONI
mobile, presto implementerà NDT

E Neubot?

Beh, diciamo che c'è del software libero, ma anche tanto tanto fango...
al momento ce ne stiamo occupando io, Davide e Carmine D'Amico

Conclusione: neubot “network neutrality bot” (software) diventa ora Neubot “network measurements from the edges” (progetto R&D collaborativo)